Interpreting the Report

The scores and charts on the first two pages show cumulative averages over 12 weeks of client responses to our per-ticket survey questions. Each ticket belongs to a specific queue, and scores are reported at the queue level on page 3. The IS&T level rolls up all the surveys; Service Desk rolls up many CSS queues; Call Center is a subset of that and excludes the Repair Center, which is shown on its own. For all the charts, the 12-week window rolls forward each week, and the scores are always across that window.

The multiline charts try to convey the rhythm of service performance over time and the relative levels of satisfaction by service dimension. A high-performing service would have all its lines flowing consistently at or above 4.5 and not too far apart from each other. Some queues have survey responses too intermittent to graph with weekly readings; those are show using only summary numbers for each dimension. The numbers are 12-week averages.

Detailed results by month by queue are shown on the third page showing up to 3 months and resetting at the beginning of the quarter. Color-

These Queues have low enough response rates per week that a weekly graph would be misleading. All scores presented are a Quarterly average, to smooth out sparse data. Monthly detail appears in the table on the next page. Note: the big box score of "Overall Satisfaction" refers to question 7 on the survey, not an aggregate of the other scores listed below.

3/8/20	10 Help Desk::Call Center	1169911	5.00	Staff were professional and courteous. Lisa followed up with some clarifying questions. (Lisa is always wonderful.) However, the helpdesk didn't have an answer to this question. We ran our own tests and discovered the behavior and reported it to the case. Lisa thanked me, and said it would be added to their documentation. Once we discovered the behavior after doing some testing, it seemed that this was a relatively simple question, and an answer the helpdesk might have had on file.

	Help Desk::Service Center	1177026		Here's the essence of the note I sent to Larry Egan, who was very helpful earlier when I brought my Toshiba Portege laptop. He led me to the following. It appears that Windows 7 has an almost fatal flaw: that if the computer clock is showing the wrong time, it won't boot, and it appears as though there is nothing one can do about it. Toshiba puts some sort of accelerometer into the Portege, so that if it is bumped it can't be booted unless one removes the battery and replaces it. Unfortunately when this happens my clock often starts at the year 2000 or 9999. There was no problem with Vista - I could correct the clock after booting, but Windows 7 prevents that. When I tried to get help from Toshiba I was led to a move that I hadn't heard of before. One can shut down the computer, and then switch on and immediately press ESC and F1, and one gets a screen on which one can correct the clock. After that, everything goes well. Dave

	10 Help Desk::Call Center	1173438	1.67	I made a call to computing help about this issue and when I did not get help I made a case with compu-squad. I see that someone merged the two cases into just the one I emailed. Regarding the call I made to computing help, no matter how many times I said so the help person did not understand that the problem was that I had two system keychains. Not a login, system and x509 anchors but two system and a x509 anchors keychain. When I checked the help tracker at that time it did not explain the problem. Now, I cannot see it because the tow cases have been merged. I found that if I repaired the keychain it made a login keychain to solve the problem. However, two system keychains remain and I would like to get rid of one of them. This problem has just happened again this morning on another machine. As for a functioning keychain I solved that myself but I still do not know how to get rid of the second system keychain. karen

					I was told that you aren't certified to work on Toshiba laptops, and that the best help he could offer me was to either mail away to Microsoft for a CD or take my laptop to Microcenter and ask their Geek squad. I think this was abominable seeing as it was not an issue with the laptop itself, but more that Windows had crashed. IS&T was reluctant to provide me any service, and I think that this is ridiculous considering the caliber of technology at this university. Furthermore, I believe that this probably happens to many students across campus because not everyone owns a Dell or the few select laptops which you are actually certified to fix.
			1165908	5.00	Jacob was extremely helpful in researching the issue and finding the solution, quite professional and polite in the process.
Γ			1165749		Telephone help was very good. My problem was not solvable, but I more or less expected that it would be a problem in the HP software, and nothing you could do about it. So I hoped for a happy resolution, but didn't expect it. Your guy was really
				F 00	great. THanks.

	2/22/2010	Help Desk::Call Center	1164224		I emailed your staff for assitance in finding a higher end PC for my professor as I don't have much time to do that. I was directed to the main shopping page with the one PC and one Apple to choose from. If we are expected to research such requests ourselves and purchase it outside of our MIT internal purchasing then I just needed to know that.
			1163095		I thought the staff did a good job. Unfortunately, the problem I had with my computer was not something they could fix because Apple does not support products over 5 years old.
			1162145		with regards to my ticket, i would like to say that the staff gave me more credit than I deserve in their confidence in me following the procedure to authenticate windows 7. The section that was relevant to my problem was not very prominent on the page so I inadvertently looked over it the first time, it had to be explicitly pointed out. If this was done in the first place the problem would have been resolved much sooner. Thank you.
			1162111	0.83	I have not received any emails about a loaner laptop, so the comments I have are: 1. I had a key not working in my keyboard. They ran a 4-hour hardware test on my laptop (rendering me pretty much out o work during that time) only to agree that this indeed is the problem and that a new keyboard should be ordered. I'm not the pro, but I'm not 100% convinced the 4-hour test was a necessary step. I take their (your?) word for it. 2. When I brought my laptop in for the first time, it was in standby mode with several applications opened. No one explained to me they will have to turn it off during diagnostics.

					It was quite annoying to find out they shut it down. I would much rather be told that in advance so that I can gracefully close my applications, save files, etc. Perhaps it is assumed that people know that, but apparently, we don't all think about it in advance, even being MIT smart cookies. So I suggest adding this ! step to the receptionist: ask (remind) people to gracefully shut their session down and turn off the machine before

t i			1149556	3.33	Excellent, prompt service, as always. Thank you! The job took longer than I expected and was incomplete. I percentage of data from that folder was able to be recovered. I

2/15/2010	Help Desk::Call Center	1159338		Staff was extremely helpful. The problem, however, is murky. The question: how risky is it to upgerade to Snow Leopard? The staff gave me advice with respect to Photoshop, for example. Don't upgrade because older models of Photoshop have had problems with Snow Leopard. I checked on the net. Some older models do have problems but others apparently don't. The bottom line: the fit between Snow Leopard and one's own computer array of applications is very idiosyncratic. Therefore, if it's not broken, don't upgrade it. I wish there were a more definite way of dealing with this problem, but your staff

		1158982		I was surprised at the speed of response, it was excellent.
		1158114		was that there was nothing further I needed to do about roles; I just needed to wait. This was not true. So, my temp and our fiscal officer wasted a bunch of time because the roles were not set up for the work they needed to do. Hi Deb, This is Michael from the MIT Computing Help Desk writing in response to your email regarding SAP authorizations for user jcourt. The reason John is not able to access SAP is because he is too new. It usually takes 48 hours following the creation of an Athena account for users to have authorizations in SAP. The servers are reset every night and need to be reset twice for SAP authorization. If he created his account yesterday, then he may be able to use it tomoorrow, but if he created it today, chances are he will not be able to log into SAP. I checked his authorizations using RolesWeb and his current status is 'other' rather than 'employee' and he has no authorizations. This m! eans that he will need to wait, either one night or two, depending on when his account was created. I apologize for any inconvenience this causes. Regards, =Michael Benitez=

	TNIS::Trouble Calls	1142259	4.17	In answers to questions 1 and 5, I've put N/A because I had two very different experiences with the staff that solved this ticket for me, and the answers differ between them. Person one is who I got on the phone in the first place: I didn't feel she wasn't very courteous, and for me that got in the way of her professionalism. Likewise, I had some trouble understanding her explanations despite my computer expertise. Person number two, the one who has assigned to the ticket, and the one who solved it was the opposite: I didn't get a chance to talk to him on the phone, but just by the email exchange, I felt I was dealing with a professional, courteous and patient staff, and he explained everything concisely and in a very understandable manner. Thanks!
	Help Desk::Call Center	1154516	2.50	I Believe that IS&T did the job they could, but if you go to Google, (not MIT-Google), and type "csbi", the first thing that comes up is "CSBi at MIT", which is just where I wanted to go. 	1141630	4.17 Thank you for the feedback opportunity. My laptop either stopped working (complete freeze) or would not start with the power button. The IST tech thinks it is due to the hard disk. I cannot argue with the decision, which seems correct, even though I am not happy with the longevity of the machine.

Eventually the second address responded, commented that they now saw that the web page had to be corrected to send messages to the right address, and answer my question. Help Desk::Business Help	1037412	5.00 I was impressed by April that she kept coming back to me to try and figure out the problem I was having with SAP. She ev went as far as going to others to ask for their help. Thank you again April.
Help Desk::Athena	1139241	1.67 The answer I got was essentially "Not our problem". In fact the answer was two-pronged; the second part was not even addressed, probably becuase they needed to do something.

2/1/2010	Help Desk::Athena	1135862	3.33 The less that satisfied responses above refer to my one main concern. I'm a staff member at MIT who wrote in with a question regarding a student (who I cc'd (and noted this in the email) to involve him in the correspondence). However, the person who wrote back, while giving a helpful and accurate answer, failed to include the student in the reply. While it wasn't a big time sink for me to forward the response onto the student in question, it seems less than efficient and would have been better to include the student on the reply to a) give him the answer asap and b) minimize the # of emails. I'm not sure if this is because of a limitation in RT or staff procedure, but if you could look into it I think that would be helpful. There are lots of service providers on campus like me who, instead of just referring students to IS&T, like to go the extra mile to contact you on their behalf, so it would be useful to consider the best

Since a significance number of their comments had disappeared from our stellar course site, I was unable to carry out this task. Any useful solution would have needed to be very prompt. I am sure that the problem resolution team has to handle many urgent issues at the end of the term. The December break led to further delays in handling the problem. When the team did focus on the problem, I supplied as much information as I could, but they were unable to retrieve the lost comments or to figure out why they disappeared. I am disappointed since I depend upon the reliability of my stellar site as a means of storing key student documents. I realize that some problems just cannot be solved. I only hope that I do not encounter a similar loss of ma! terial this semester. I have tried to move away from making paper copies of all student work, but that strategy will only work if the stellar copies remain accessible.

In a way, the fact that it took several IS&T people to solve the problem made me feel like I wasn't such a dope to be unable to do it myself. Thanks for the help!
		1135085		I had some old word perfect files on my new laptop. It is not readable on it. Your staff member did her best but through no fault of hers the problem was not solved. I do have the files also on a zip disk so I can print out the important files on my older desktop computer.
		1135028	4.17	I haven't yet tried the fix so don't know if it will work. 		1074750	3.33	The process was long, there were no updates to the ticket, I called every day with the ticket number and the person on the phone had to go and find the update on my PC. I was without my laptop for over a week. Additionally, my Outlook folders were never backed up as I had thought they were on a daily basis. I was later told, that if Outlook is open, then Outlook does not back up folders in the normal process. I have lost al my outlook history. This was totally unexpected and it should be made very clear to those using the back up service that this is the process. 	TNIS::Trouble Calls	1083372	3.33	This ticket actually covers two internet connection outages (the problem recurred after it was fixed). I was pretty dissatisfied with the handling of my ticket on the first occasion - it took over 2 weeks for IST to fix the internet connection on my work computer, and it just broke again a few weeks later. Although I had no trouble contacting an IST rep about the issue, the people I spoke to told me that they didn't have the expertise to fix the problem. (But when my PI called up, they managed to find someone with expertise and fix the problem within 24 hours.) I was quite satisfied with the second handlin of my ticket the problem was fixed within 24 hours.

		1125354	5.00	Thank you for this follow-up. Your IST "Help Line"staff member could not have been more helpful and patient. For many years, I have used remote access software (TIMBUKTU) control my office computer from home. I would like to do the same from my Lap-top when travelling or vacationing. Basically, I need to get onto the Internet with my lap-top, and I would like my lap-top to have independent capability to do so (i.e., be wireless). Your staff member and I discussed the availability of such capability through companies such as AT& which I had investigated. While monthly charges for such service are quite reasonable, a contract of 12 to 24 months is also required, and I need it only until June 30. If such service can be obtained at a lower cost, either through MIT or otherwise, neither your staff member nor I know of it. If you would care to discuss this further, please contact me at jmdhosi@mit.edu, or x3-3301, or at home, 617-527-5916. (I will not be on campus tomorrow! .)

				All that needed to happen was the router needed to be reset.
				don't understand why this took 4 days, especially since it can

1/4/2010	Help Desk::Call Center	1117940	5.00	The performance of the staff is outstanding when I communicate a problem, but the performance of IS&T is unsatisfactory when it needs to be proactive. When the Spam system was changed there was no notification on how to deal with it. We lost the ability to operate through webmail and were not informed about the new website for spam management. The new system was spamming mail from MIT faculty and students! Couldn't this have been debugged before implementation?

				In general, I found the service at IST very professional and excellent. In this case, the problem was not resolved as we didn't know why the proposed solution did not work. 		1117419	3.33	I didn't get much help from IS&T - I called over the phone and was told that the problem did not sound familiar. The only advice I was given was to download the free MIT virus software, but to do that I needed to delete my current software which is better rated. I proceeded to work on the problem myself, and it is not yet solved.
		1117262	4.17	all my fault
		1116781	0.83	I had a webex problem. I do not want to talk to the general webex people - I do that too much already. I wanted to talk with someone knowledgeable about it AT MIT, because I didn't receive the normal email that should tell me about my recording of my meeting, and I wanted to know whether MIT had set something different as a default. (I've been using someone else's webex service and NEVER had this problem.) All I got from MIT was a pointer to the webex people - completely uninformative and not helpful. I wanted facts, not another forward pointer.
		1116722	5.00	I've round that if it is something the Help Desk statt can answer, the service is quite satisfactory. If they have to hand it off to someone else, eg networking, it is like it goes in a black hole. one 2009 item took 5-6 months to resolve. HD did do a nice job with periodic checkins, but when it was finally resolved, the case wasn't updated with any explanation - what had suddenly stopped working just as suddenly and inexplicably restarted working.
		1116388	4.17
				re #4 - The difficulty had to do with the number of addressees exceeding the capacity of the IMAP mail system. There were over 90 addressees. The suggestion was that I break up the addressee list into at least two parts., which I did. Guess I'm just envious that some folks can manage sending to abot 100 adddressees, but we can't. Melissa Fox for Ron Prinn 1116119		A somewhat unusual circumstance regarding this ticket was that I immediately received the automatic response and ticket number; then waited a few days for an Emailed resolution that did not arrive. I then went to the web-interface, entered the ticket number, and found out that it had been answered. I am puzzled as to why the answer did not arrive to me via Email.

			The IS&T department actually did not resolve my ticket problem. I use a Mac and when I have problems the team often cannot help me on the spot and need to call me back. When I called this time the woman asked me to make sure my resolution was at the highest, which it was. The zoom had been turned on (I didn't know Macs had a zoom function). But other than fixing the resolution she had no idea how to fix my problem. She took my information and said someone would get back to me. In the mean time I did a google search and found the solution myself. I called IS&T back to make sure they didn't spend time trying to fix my solved problem when they could be using helping someone else out. Overall I am dissatisfied by their general lack of knowledge on Macs. I realize they predominately use and fix PCs, but if you work at the Help Desk you need to know other machines than PCs. Many faculity, staff, and student use Macs today and the IS&T staff really needs to be as proficient on the ! Macs as PCs. I am thankful 2.50 the Help Desk exists, but they need to take a course on Macs.
		1109288	4.17 you guys did a great job, it just took a while. I assume that had something to do with the fact that this occurred over christmas break. Anyway, nice work.

I was asked, "In the future you can contact me directly rather than open an RT case. I can be reached at: jronald@mit.edu or at 617- 253-0815." That's fine, it's just that sometimes this is how emails get missed. At least by sending the request to RT, it's in the system, and I can check to see if there's been any action noted in the case. All-in-all, I have what I need, and that's a 5.00 positive.

		1107518	4.17 Let me know when the service has been undertaken and completed. I stopped getting emails for a day and had no idea why. This might be due to my use of Pine.
